Mobile Device Management & Endpoint Security

Helping You Achieve Your Mobile Vision

TEKPROS' portfolio of mobile solutions covers comprehensive, full lifecycle mobile needs and enables endpoint management & security for customers with PCs, Macs, iPads, iPhones, Androids, and any Smartphone or Tablet.

Mobile Strategy – assessing your existing infrastructure and technical environment to define an integrated architecture for mobile readiness and deployment.

Mobile Applications Services – designing, developing, testing, and deploying mobile applications, including native mobile development and mobile-enabling existing web-based and enterprise applications.

Mobile Service/Device Management – managing and operating your mobile environment to achieve efficiencies in performance and cost, collect and analyze usage trends, and troubleshoot issues remotely.

Mobile Security – configuring devices securely, including code-level security, vulnerability testing, and device lock-down to minimize identity and data risks and threats.

With TEKPROS, you can build mobile applications that deliver multi-channel user experiences for a variety of devices with the ability to:

- > Run back-end systems that efficiently connect mobile applications with enterprise application data.
- > Leverage mobile capabilities to transform existing functions and create new opportunities for revenue growth, differentiation and productivity.
- > Manage applications and device policies on corporate and employee owned devices.
- > Help secure data, applications and devices while maintaining privacy.

Supporting a mobile workforce and helping the organization engage mobile customers, TEKPROS delivers deep expertise and proven leadership in enterprise hardware, software and operating system solutions with the vendor neutrality of a company that is not limited in its scope or approach by ties to specific wireless providers, device designs or mobile platforms. Providing comprehensive coverage from mobile email access to application development, outsourcing, security and device management, TEKPROS is your trusted partner in the management of the ever-growing number of Smartphone options and the explosion of tablet computers.
